SWAP YOUR CAR THIS WEEKEND

Don't miss this special event at Chapelhouse

Trading in your tired old wheels for a more exciting model becomes easier and cheaper than ever.

Here at Chapelhouse, we love giving our customers great deals, so if you are looking to change your car, we are offering a simple, catch free way to do so, without leaving you out of pocket.

Our Car Swap event runs right across the Chapelhouse group, meaning you have a range of over 700 new, nearly new and quality used vehicles to choose from. Many of our cars also come with a host of added extras as standard, including our fantastic 'free MOT test for life' offer.

The process is simple, just take your car down to Chapelhouse, and enjoy a hot drink on us, while one of our friendly salesmen works out the best possible price we can give you for your car. Once we've worked this out, you can take a look around the site and pick the car you'd like to take home. Each car will be reduced and priced to sell, so simply deduct the price of your car from the price of your new car, and that's all you have to pay. That means there's every chance you will walk away with a new car for nothing!

To make a great deal even better, just £50 will secure any vehicle you like. No other dealer can boast an offer this good, so make sure you take a trip down to Chapelhouse during this Car Swap event and get yourself a new car from as little as £0!

CAR SWAP HOW IT WORKS...

1. We shall close early on 23rd May in order to prepare for Chapelhouse the Car Swap nine day event.
2. We will fully prepare over 700 new, nearly new and used vehicles and line them up for you to browse around.
3. The price of every car will be reduced and PRICED TO SELL!
4. The Car Swap price will be whitewashed on to every car windscreen.
5. You will be able to see the saving from the original price which will still be on the car.
6. When you arrive and after making your choice of tea, coffee or hot chocolate your car will be valued.
7. You will be given a written valuation on a signed form stating how much we will give you for your car.
8. Pick the car you most desire and either do a straight swap depending on the valuation of your car or pay the difference.
9. Once you have decided on a swap, simply take your valuation form to any one of the Chapelhouse Car Sales Executives who will complete the necessary documentation. You will also be able to take advantage of special finance packages during the event, including interest free credit.
10. Finally £50 will reserve any car in the Chapelhouse Car Swap

MALNUTRITION CASES TRIPLE
40,000kg OF FOOD HANDED OUT

BY ANDY MOFFATT
andy.moffatt@jpress.co.uk
@AndyMoffatt1

The number of local malnutrition cases has more than tripled over the past five years, new figures have revealed.

In 2009, just 16 people were admitted to either St Helens or Whiston Hospital suffering malnutrition.

But by last year, that figure had rocketed, with an alarming 48 malnourished people taken into medical care. While there is no hard data to prove a direct link between increasing cases and welfare cuts, there has been a steady increase since their introduction.

There were 31 cases in 2010, 42 in 2011, 54 in 2012 and 48 in 2013.

And the borough's foodbank, first launched in 2012, has handed out food parcels to 5,000 people since it opened its doors in May 2012.

In total, the charity says food parcels it has distributed weigh in at 40,000kg. Health professionals working in the borough, meanwhile, say they are continuing to offer services to combat what is a growing problem.

Liz Gaulton, director of public health for St Helens Council, said: "Malnutrition is an important public health problem affecting an estimated three million people in the UK - but more common among frail, elderly people.

Crackdown on nuisance behaviour

By Chris Amery
chris.amery@jpress.co.uk
@ChrisAmery2

Police are set to ban groups of youths from congregating in an area of Whiston in a bid to help cut anti-social behaviour.

From June 1 to September 1 officers will have the power to break up groups of two or more youths in the Ropers Bridge area, courtesy of a section 30 dispersal order.

The order will be in force every day between 6pm and midnight.

Officers will also have the power to send under 16s home and arrest anyone who ignores their instructions.

The order has been authorised by Merseyside Police and is supported by the force's partner, Knowsley Council.

It follows concerns about anti-social behaviour raised by the local community. Leaflets with details of the order will be displayed throughout the dispersal area and distributed in local schools.

Terry Pearson, Whiston's neighbourhood sergeant, said: "Reducing anti-social behaviour is one of our key priorities in Whiston because we know it's something that really matters to our local community.

"We are working hard with our partners, including the Council, to look at a range of measures to tackle recent problems surrounding people congregating in the Ropers Bridge area and the section 30 order will help us to do this.

"The order will be regularly patrolled by uniformed officers who will be targeting the small minority of people who are determined to cause problems for local people and businesses."

A spokesperson for Knowsley Council said: "This is good news for local people who have been experiencing anti-social behaviour."

Hospice a special place for Nicky

FEATURE

By Chris Amery
chris.amery@jpress.co.uk
@sthelensreport

Willowbrook Hospice will forever hold a special place in Nicky Saunders' heart – and not just because she is the charity's fund-raising boss.

Nicky's husband, Mark, was treated in the Portico Lane hospice after being diagnosed with terminal bowel and liver cancer in 1999 and her dad, Ian, was treated there before dying of leukaemia last year.

She said: "Mark didn't want to go into the hospice but as soon as we walked in the door and were greeted by the volunteers on reception and the nurses, it was just lovely. It was such a different atmosphere to the hospital. They really made a fuss of him and he really liked going there. The doctors treated him more like a friend. I loved what the hospice did for him – they gave him his dignity back.

"Mark was such a nice guy. He didn't drink or smoke – he was a black belt in jujitsu – and he was a wonderful dad and a lovely husband."

Nicky, 51, of Knowsley Village, was just 38 when Mark lost his brave cancer battle in September 2001 and their children Steven, now 24, and Laura, 22, were just 11 and 10.

She returned to work as a craft, cookery and cake-decorating teacher at Knowsley Community College before, a few years later, grasping the opportunity to work for Willowbrook.

Nicky has now worked for Willowbrook for the last seven years. She added: "My mum was first to notice the advert for a fund-raising manager. I didn't apply at first, but when I did I got the job!

"Willowbrook is a privilege to work for. I feel very passionately about what the hospice can do for people to help them feel better about their lives - both physically and emotionally."

IDENTICAL twins have inspired St Helens Chamber member mum to embark on a new career. Zoe Parry returned to her job after maternity leave and was made redundant six months later. She had worked in the pawnbroker business for 20 years.

Zoe, aged 38, of Bidleston Close, said: "I really struggled to find a job that fitted around the children as well being able to afford high childcare costs. I have no family close by."

Zoe decided to set up her own online business from home, Little Uns Clothing, incorporating her two-year-old daughters, Lily and Daisy as flowers on her logo. She uses three British designers.

She said: "My daughters are my inspiration and they are my models. There has been an increase in multiple births and not every mum wants to dress twins in the same clothes. People assume because they look identical that they are the same. My girls are totally unique. Daisy is very lively and confident. Lily assesses everything and is quiet. We offer the same style in different colours or designs."

Zoe who is married to Dave, aged 43, and has a five-year-old son, Stan, said she received training and support from The Chamber.

She added: "I couldn't have done it without them. They've been unbelievable. Through networking events, I've met people who have helped me.

"My ultimate aim is to open a shop in and hopefully create jobs. "I hope my story inspires other mums to believe that their goals and aspirations can still be achieved whilst bringing up children and running a family."

Council election results see Labour get 14 out of 16 seats

By Chris Amery
chris.amery@jpress.co.uk
@ChrisAmery2

The battle royal predicted in the town centre ward failed to materialise as the Red Rose party's Lisa Preston beat former Mayor John Beirne - standing for UKIP - by more than 800 votes.

Ex-Town Hall leader Marie Rimmer, who is set to run for MP in St Helens South and Whiston next year, easily held onto her West Park seat with a majority of more than 1,000 votes.

She said: "I'm absolutely delighted. It was important to win this before next year. West Park is my community - it's where I live, where I shop.

"I will continue to work as hard as ever as a local community councillor."

There were also victories for the likes of Sue Murphy, Paul McQuade, Gareth Cross, Bill Anderton, Jeff Fletcher, Richard McCauley and Terry Shields.

In Newton, Labour's Jean Bell picked up more than 250 more votes than her Lib Dem counterpart - despite the seat having previously been held by Lib Dem Neil Taylor.

Local Lib Dem leader Steph Topping suffered the ignominy of not just losing her Sutton seat - but being beaten into third by UKIP.

In a poor showing for the Lib Dems, which left them with just three councillors, all in Eccleston, they received just 64 votes in Billinge and Seneley Green - the same as the BNP. The one bright spot was deputy Mayor Geoff Pearl who comfortably held onto his Eccleston seat and is set to become Mayor of St Helens for 2014/15.

The only other non-Labour winner was Linda Mussell, who prevailed in Rainford after former local Tory leader David Monk stepped down.

St Helens Town Hall, Victoria Square, St Helens

Town Hall leader Barrie Grunewald told of his delight at the Labour showing.

He said: "Every single win was equally satisfying and it puts us in a very strong position. But we won't rest on our laurels.

"Here in St Helens we decided to take on UKIP and expose what they actually stand for. Other parts of the country chose just to ignore them."

Student's coursework was in boot of stolen car

Police are appealing for the safe return of three years worth of student coursework which was in the boot of a car stolen in Newton-le-Willows.

Officers were called to Pipit Avenue at about 8.30am on Saturday, May 24, following a report that a white, three door, BMW 114d had been stolen from the driveway of a house.

It's believed the offenders smashed a glass panel in the front door of the property at around 5.30am, stole the car keys, then drove off in the car - which is a 63 plate.

Patrols attended and crime scene investigators are carrying out inquiries.

CCTV from the area is also being located and reviewed.

An investigation into the full circumstances surrounding the incident is continuing.

Detective Constable Tracy Awbery, of St Helens CID, said: "We are obviously keen to trace the car that was stolen but the most important thing for the victim is the safe return of the coursework.

"She is a student nurse who is coming to the end of her course and the portfolio represents three years of hard work and dedication which cannot be replaced.

"She must have the work to complete her degree and without it she may have to retake all three years."

DC Awbery added: "She is obviously beside herself with worry and desperate for its safe return so that she can finish her course this summer and get on with her career.

"I would appeal to the offenders to search their consciences then get in touch to let us know where the car and coursework are.

"I would also urge anyone with information about this incident to contact us as soon as possible so that we can try to reunite the victim with her work."

A police spokesman confirmed that the university where the victim studies has since vowed to support her "as much as they can" given her plight.

She will not be forced to re-take all three years of her course but must complete the third year as well as she can and do her best to fill in any gaps in her work.

The return of her work is still important for the completion of her course.

Anyone with information can call detectives in St Helens CID on 0151 777 6812 or Crimestoppers, in confidence, on 0800 555 111.

Community's concern over branch closure in once-thriving retail unit

BY ANDY MOFFATT
andy.moffatt@jpress.co.uk
@AndyMoffatt1

Concerned residents and community leaders are calling for Barclays Bank bosses to re-think plans to close its branch in Fingerpost.

The unit, which is based within the area's main shopping centre, is set to close on August 1.

Bosses say the move was prompted by a dramatic drop in the number of customers using the branch.

But campaigners say it will have a devastating impact on elderly residents and nearby businesses.

Bette Yates, secretary of the Fingerpost Tenants and Residents' Association, said: "There are a lot of elderly residents who are worried about this, people who will find it very difficult to get to the next nearest branch.

"Fingerpost shopping centre was once a very thriving area but it has really taken a hit lately."

Town centre ward councillior Geoff Almond also expressed deep concern about the effect of the closure on the area's elderly.

However, bank bosses say anyone with a Barclays account will be able to access some basic service at the nearby Post Office.

Maria Branigan, community leader for Barclays in Merseyside said: "Barclays is constantly reviewing the way we work to ensure we can deliver a service that is shaped around the way customers are choosing to carry out their banking.

"The way our customers interact with us is changing and in cases like Fingerpost, where there is low customer footfall and the type of transactions carried out in the branch are limited we need to balance this with ensuring we provide access where our customers want us.

"Customers will not need to take any action as all account details, sort code, account numbers and direct debits will remain the same."

A bank spokesman said the branch's two full-time staff would now take up positions at the bank's town centre office.

Town is starving

"The most common signs are unexplained and unintentional weight loss. Malnutrition can be caused by a variety of medical and mental health conditions – such as depression or dementia - or physical difficulties in eating.

"Anyone who is concerned about loss of appetite or malnutrition should visit their GP. Overnutrition is more common than undernutrition and leads to people becoming overweight and obese."

And Diane Coysh, health improvement specialist from The Health Improvement Team in St Helens which is run by Bridgewater Community Healthcare NHS Trust, said a number of initiatives were currently in place to help people struggling.

She said: "We provide a range of free help and support for local people to lead healthier lifestyles.

"Through our local team people can gain access to the Health Trainer service. Health Trainers provide practical support on a one to one basis to help people develop a personal health plan."

COMMENT

Jam Jar Army inspiration

If Nicky Saunders' story doesn't encourage people to join the Reporter's Jam Jar Army then we don't know what will!

Having witnessed first-hand the superb work of volunteers, doctors and nurses at Willowbrook Hospice - it must have been fate for her to end up working there as the charity's fund-raising boss.

It couldn't be simpler for you to support your local hospice. Just keep hold of your old jam jars and fill them with spare change.

Then, when they're full, donate them to the hospice.

Smoking dangers

The dangers of continuing to smoke while pregnant are no secret.

So it's shocking that as many as one in five still light up when they're expecting.

Let's hope the message is getting through to smoking mums-to-be in St Helens slowly but surely.

YOUR LETTERS

Sold sign - see letter 'Time to burst the bubble'

HISTORY

What was Churchill's real role

I looked forward with much anticipation to reading the above history. However on the second page headed "Winston Churchill's fiasco" I feel I must question the implied insinuation.

I appreciate that just like Marmite, you either love Churchill or hate him but in a history plain facts should outweigh anything else.

It is correct that as First Lord Of The Admiralty Churchill must take a large portion of the blame.

Although the concept of the operation was sound, poor planning and inefficient execution of the assault led to it's failure, but unlike many of today's politicians, Churchill accepted his responsibility, fell on his sword, and resigned his post as First Lord.

Your article implies he was then "put in command of an infantry battalion and sent to France" as a punishment.

He could have stayed in Parliament and seen the war out polishing the seat of his trousers on the back benches, but again, unlike many of our present day "Leaders" he resigned his seat, rejoined his Regiment, and fought with distinction in France.

Churchill, rightly or wrongly, was called many things, but never a coward. He participated in the last charge by British cavalry at Omdurman, and distinguished himself in the Boer War as a war correspondent.

Just a thought, but do you think that if his actions in being at the sharp end was emulated by our present politicians who take us into questionable wars and then go on to amass many millions of pounds, maybe, just maybe, we might not have to any more!

HOUSE PRICES

Time to burst the bubble

At this point in time we are witnessing an engineered housing bubble, which will once again deprive large sections of the population of ever owning or renting a decent home.

This especially hits the young in our communities who cannot find the large deposits to enter the market in the first place, due to rampant run away inflation in the prices of property.

Who stands to gain from this developing scenario. People downsizing, money lenders, estate agents and private landlords.

With the sole exception of category one all the others are profit motivated and lack any degree of social conscience.

cal overhaul of the system by adopting the following.
1. Establish a state property valuation board to set property prices and rents. 2. Compel all money lenders (backed by state funds) to lend money at affordable rates of interest.
3. Estate agents to be deprived of setting house valuations, but allowed to assist in co-ordinating sales.
4. Private landlords to be abolished and holdings to be purchased by the valuation board prior to them being passed back to local authority control.
5. Promote affordable housing initially for rent, with a right to buy later. 6. Promote a rural house building programme with a sales restriction that the properties must only be sold to people raised in the communities.
This effectively kills the right to multiple house ownership.
The adoption of the latter six points will ensure all sections of the community will have equality of opportunity when it comes to the basic requirement of a decent home in which to live.
I urge all readers to appraise how many local first time buyers are purchasing properties in the surrounding areas and if you have a social conscience you will agree that action quoted above is an essential aspect in any housing programme.

FOOD BANKS

Government to listen and learn

The continuing correspondence regarding food banks highlights one of the basic problems faced by a government run by the comfortably-placed and the well-off.
"Poverty is an anomaly to rich people. It is very difficult to make out why people who want dinner do not ring the bell."
This was written by Walter Bagehot, the noted 19th century economist and political commentator. So, no change there then.
However,there is no reason why such views should remain entrenched forever.
This government needs to learn some hard lessons – and quickly.

EU

In, out, shake it all about

Despite PM David Cameron's promise of repatriation of powers from the EU followed by an "in out" referendum on our EU membership, providing he is re-elected next year, it is highly unlikely that he will achieve anything substantial or at all, as confirmed by the outgoing EC president Jose Manuel Barroso.
His deputy PM Nick Clegg has said as much, claiming we need to be part of it and engaging with our neighbours.
Sorry Nick, we've been members since 1973 and we still have little if any influence, despite the billions that it costs us each year.
When asked how the EU would look in 10 years, in the recent tv debate he replied, 'not much different.'
We've heard all the empty rhetoric false promises from Labour, Lib-Dems and Conservatives for the last 40 years and nothing has changed, nor will it as long as people keep voting for them.
They, along with their chums in big business have their own agenda and we don't count - other than paying taxes.

One in five mums to be keep on smoking

BY ANDREW EDGEWORTH
andrew.edgeworth@jpress.co.uk
@AEdgeworthWIG

Nearly one in five pregnant women are still smoking right up until the time they give birth according to the latest NHS figures.

The number of pregnant women smoking is still a concern

The shock statistics released by the Health and Social Care Information Centre (HSCIC) show that in 2013/14 some 19 per cent of mums to be were still smoking at the time they gave birth.

Health chiefs say that the figures are improving and claim new initiatives to tackle the issue are behind the drop in the number of mums to be smoking.

A spokesman for St Helens Council's Public Health team said: "These figures date from earlier in the year and the situation has now improved significantly – falling from a Q3 figure of 21.1 per cent to 17.4 per cent for Q4. This gives an overall year to date figure of 19.0 per cent across St Helens for 2013/14 – well below the target of 23 per cent.

"The earlier figures are disappointing, but have to be taken in context – reflecting both the number of births overall and the number of women who smoke in that particular period.

"Over the last few years the overall trend is a definite decrease in smoking during pregnancy. We have one of the best care pathways across Merseyside – and in St Helens we have an incentive scheme that has proved effective in maintaining non-smoking throughout pregnancy. A new incentive scheme will be rolled out this year and the service will engage with even more women.

"Our advice to pregnant women always underlines the fact that smoking remains one of the few modifiable risk factors in pregnancy. It can cause a range of serious health problems, including lower birth weight, pre-term birth, placental complications and perinatal mortality."

Woman was found hanged at home

A woman who hanged herself at her home was found to have been nearly four times the legal drink drive limit at the time.

Annette Fogg, who had a medical history of depression, called her brother at about 11am on December 2 last year to indicate her intention to take her own life.

Mrs Fogg's brother - and other family members - immediately rushed to her house on Willis Lane, Whiston, and found her slumped on the staircase with a ligature around her neck.

They removed the ligature and desperately tried to resuscitate her but, sadly, despite intensive treatment both in an ambulance and on her arrival at Whiston Hospital, she was pronounced dead a short time later.

Mrs Fogg, 53, a widow who was known to use alcohol to excess, had last been seen alive by her son at about 9am that morning – and had given no indication of anything untoward at the time.

Police quickly determined there were no suspicious circumstances surrounding her death but a toxicology report found that she had been about four times the legal drink drive limit at the time.

Doctors, who said the level of alcohol in her system would have impaired her judgement, also found signs that the booze had been downed only a short time before she died.

Coroner Christopher Sumner returned a verdict that Mrs Fogg took her own life.

Housing on the up

House building in St Helens has outstripped already encouraging national figures according to new data from the council's planning team.

The Department of Communities and Local Government revealed recently that the number of new houses built nationally in the year to March 2014 had risen by 31 per cent.

However the number built during the same period in St Helens rocketed by 90 per cent – with 766 additional homes now either completed or under construction.

Council leader Barrie Grunewald said: "Thanks to a proactive policy of working closely with local and national housing developers, as well as housing associations, we've been able to improve choice and provide a great mix of housing for our residents."

March for jobs
20 years ago

May 25, 1994, was set to go down in the annals of local history as the day St Helens took the message to Westminster that "people matter". The March for Jobs, supported by the St Helens Reporter, saw hundreds of locals attend a rally in the central methodist hall at Westminster - at which several prominent MPs spoke.
All of them praised the way the people of St Helens were leading the way in expressing their anger about mass unemployment.
The message they sent was that people were skilled, loyal and ready to work.

Dodging jibes
25 years ago

Plucky Vicky Loughran was proving quite a match for the lads on a construction training course at the Atlas Street workshop.
But the lively teen found she had to dodge the occasional jibe as well as falling bricks.
Determined Vicky, 16, of Parr, had been training in bricklaying and joinery since March and, perhaps not surprisingly, she was the only girl on the course.
"I really don't know why I took it up," said Vicky, "it's a job always associated with men but I'm finding it very interesting. I'm really enjoying the training."

Row to romance
30 years ago

A twist of fate led to romance for Joy Brown and Cliff Lunt with the couple set to walk down the aisle as man and wife.
A family row ended with Cliff, 21, leaving his parents' home in Manchester and moving to St Helens - where he met his bride to be, the daughter of a Salvation Army captain.
Cliff had been unable to heal his rift though... and neither his mother or father were set to be among the wedding guests.
He said: "I invited them both and woul ddearly have liked them to be present on one of the greatest days of my life."

BY CHRIS AMERY
chris.amery@jpress.co.uk
@ChrisAmery2

A pensioner who took an overdose of over-the-counter medication had left a suicide note, an inquest heard.

Catherine Molyneux was pronounced dead by paramedics at her Freckleton Road home, Toll Bar, shortly after 1.30pm on November 29 last year.

The retired cleaner, 77, had been fully active and independent until her health deteriorated after Christmas 2012 - when she became housebound and increasingly reliant on friends.

She had last been in contact with friends on November 28.

Concerned pals then went to her house the following day to check up on her after she failed to get in touch.

They found her unresponsive on the couch and immediately dialled 999.

'She made a number of provision for her death'

Police later found two empty blister packs, each which had contained a dozen over-the-counter pills - a mixture of paracetamol and codeine - and a hand-written note in which Mrs Molyneux apologised to friends for her actions.

Officers quickly established there were no suspicious circumstances surrounding her death and a post mortem found no natural disease process which could have accounted for her death.

A toxicology report showed that the level of codeine in her system - a central nervous system depressant - fell within the range known to cause respiratory failure and fatality.

A pathologist recorded the medical cause of death as "codeine toxicity".

Coroner Christopher Sumner said he had "no doubt whatsoever" about Mrs Molyneux's intentions "having read the provisions she had made for following her death".

He added: "She knew what she was doing and therefore, regrettably, I have to record that she took her own life."

Firefighters tackle scrap blaze

A scrap metal blaze was believed to have been sparked accidentally.

Firefighters from St Helens and Newton-le-Willows were called to a yard on Merton Bank Road.

Watch manager Mike Foster said: "When we arrived the fire was about to spread to a pick-up truck and excavating machinery. We used ladders to access the yard where the fire was and prevented the fire spreading. It could have caused serious damage to machinery in the yard and the pick-up truck."

Firefighters took around half an hour to put out the blaze.

Action dolls stolen from haulage yard

Burglars raided a Haydock business for action figure toys and dolls twice in the space of just six weeks.

Officers were first called to Revolution Transport Services on Sunday, March 16, following a report of an overnight burglary.

The offenders had forced entry to the Withins Road building during the night before making off with a stash of dolls and action figure toys.

The business was then targeted in a carbon-copy raid some time between 12.30am and 2.15am on Saturday, May 3.

Again, burglars forced entry to the site before stealing children's toys.

Police have since carried out a forensic examination at the scene and inquiries into both incidents are ongoing.

DC Rob Keir, of St Helens CID, said: "We take reports of this nature very seriously and a full investigation is being carried out into the two burglaries.

"I would urge anyone with any information about either incident, or information about the stolen items, to call detectives."

Anyone with information is urged to call St Helens CID on 0151 777 6811 or Crimestoppers, in confidence, on 0800 555 111.

Students showcase talents for designing

BY CHRIS AMERY
chris.amery@jpress.co.uk
@ChrisAmery2

St Helens' budding young designers used the World of Glass as a valuable new showcase for their talents.

A group of students from Carmel College recently displayed their work in a new exhibition at the town's famous visitor attraction.

"These young people are aiming to make a career in the design world and this is a celebration of their work," said Silvana Fair, the college's head of 3D Design and Design and Technology.

"Most of them come from St Helens and the surrounding area so it gives them a great sense of pride to see their work on display in a location that is at the heart of their local community.

"Many hope to go on to university and find work in areas ranging from industry and product design to engineering or architecture.

"Being able to say they have exhibited at The World of Glass looks good on their CVs and is a valuable endorsement to admissions tutors and prospective future employers."

The museum's curator, Hannah Longworth, is also delighted with the exhibition.

"We were approached by the college to stage this event and that highlights the importance of The World of Glass to the local community," she said.

SETTLE & CARLISLE STEAM TRAIN

The popular steam hauled 'Fellsman' returns to the spectacular Settle to Carlisle railway for summer 2014, running every Wednesday over the roof of England – With great limestone peaks and deep valleys the legendary 'Settle to Carlisle' line is a masterpiece of Victorian engineering including the great 24 arched viaduct at Ribblehead, with time available for either sightseeing in Carlisle - or an optional extra tour of the Lake District by vintage coach and cruise on beautiful Ullswater.

The Settle & Carlisle line is known for its magnificent scenery and steep gradient so the engine will be working hard as we climb to the magnificent Ribblehead Viaduct with stunning views of the three peaks. Passengers get a marvellous view down Dent Dale as the train emerges from Blea Moor tunnel and approaching Garsdale you will see sweeping views of Wensleydale - Travelling on through the lush Eden Valley to the historic border city of Carlisle arriving around 13.00 where there is a sightseeing stop of around two hours. Returning from Carlisle about 15.30 and following a water and photographic stop at Appleby we travel over the same spectacular route giving another opportunity to experience the beauty of the high Pennines.

Premier Dining Class - Prices from £190: Including Full English breakfast & three course Dinner

Standard & First Class - Prices from £69: No meals on the train but a Buffet Car is available throughout the journey.

Changes are bringing us closer to our readers

Notice anything different about this week's St Helens Reporter? Didn't think so.

We may now no longer be an office-bound organisation but we will continue to be at the very heartbeat of St Helens life - as we have been for the last 150-plus years.

In that time we've chronicled the highs and the lows, reporting from every district and every street - and that won't change.

As the Editor of St Helens' longest-established newspaper, I know how important it is for our journalists to really know every inch of their patch.

That's why our team of roving journalists will now spend their days out and about investigating the issues that really matter to St Helens.

We'll be interviewing, reporting and filing news stories from out on the beat.

Our journalists, armed with the latest technology, can now create a virtual office space anywhere in the borough, so it has never been easier to get out and report directly from the thick of the action.

GROUP EDITOR JANET WILSON
Mob: 07801195875
Email: janet.wilson@jpress.co.uk
Twitter: @JWilsonWIG

Of course, we'll still be providing a place where our readers can visit and speak face-to-face with our journalists.

We will hold a twice-weekly surgery at the Citadel in Water Street every Tuesday and Wednesday from 10am to 4pm, where you can visit and discuss the issues that matter with your local journalist.

What all this means is that we'll still be bringing you the same unrivalled package of news, sport and features in paper every Wednesday and online 24/7 on our website or on Facebook and Twitter.

And it has never been easier to get in touch with either our news or advertising teams, by calling one of the numbers opposite. For the many folk who prefer to pick up their weekly St Helens Reporter in person from our Claughton Street office, we've made it easier than ever.

The Reporter is now on sale in a growing number of outlets across the borough. Anyone wishing to place a birth, death or marriage advertisement will be able to take advantage of our free online service or speak directly to one of our operators.

So, from May 26, when our Claughton Street office finally closes its doors, we'll be closer to you, our readers. Closer to the stories that really matter to you.

Closer to the community we've served for the past 150 years.

It is a privilege to serve this great town and one we will continue to fulfil with the same commitment and passion as we always have.

Looked after children are also eligible to a free place.

What is available?

Your child would be able to benefit from 15 hours of free early education per week for 38 weeks of the year at a nursery, pre-school playgroup or childminder.

This would start from the school term after your child turns two. Your child could attend for 5 hours a day over 3 days of the week, or for 3 hours a day over 5 days of the week. Other options might be available.

How will my child benefit?

Children like to explore the world around them, play with other children and have fun. Good early years education from a young age can help children to:

- Become more confident
- Play and join in with other children
- Develop their language skills
- Learn new things

Evidence shows that high quality early education at age two brings benefits to children's development.

What happens when my child turns three?

When your child turns three, they can continue to take up their free place where they are, or depending upon availability, they may be able to take up a place in another private Nursery, Preschool Playgroup or Local Authority run nursery/class or with a Childminder.

Where can my child go?

St.Helens Council keeps a list of the different childcare providers who are able to deliver the free early years education to two-year-olds. Only good quality childcare providers that are registered with Ofsted are allowed to offer these places. Currently there are over fifty-two nurseries, playgroups and childminders across St.Helens who have been approved by us to deliver early years education to two-year-olds.

Willowbrook HOSPICE Time for Caring

jamjar army

Are you ready to sign up to our Jam Jar Army and make a huge contribution to Willowbrook Hospice?

Our bold campaign aims to raise £10,000 for the town's hospice to pay the salary of an extra nurse.

That extra funding will make a massive difference - and doing your bit couldn't be easier.

Get yourself a jam jar, enjoy the contents, cut out the logo on the side of this page, then start filling it with spare change or any cash you have lying about.

You can have as many jam jars as you like; perhaps one at home and one at work. Schools, homes, businesses and sports clubs are all welcome to take part.

And it couldn't easier to get creative. Hold your own Jam Jar Army tea party, with the proceeds going straight into your jam jar; or give up that daily treat and stick the cash you've saved straight into the jar!

Willowbrook are backing our campaign and chief executive Neil Wright says the importance of nursing care can't be over-estimated.

"Regrettably, we have a constant waiting list of patients who need to be admitted to the Hospice and it saddens us that we do not have enough beds to meet their needs," added Mr Wright.

"The two new bedrooms that are currently being built at the Hospice will help us to care for more people who desperately need our support in the future.

"This fantastic campaign will help us to afford the specialist nursing care that we need to open the additional beds and support local people. Please join the Jam Jar Army. Every penny counts and will help a nurse to be there for our patients."

The hospice, which has been caring for people in St Helens and Knowsley since 1998, needs to raise £2m every year.

Its current 10 beds are occupied most of the time and last year hospice bosses were awarded a government grant which will help pay for an extension, including two new bedrooms and a refurbishment to parts of the existing building.

On completion, it will mean the hospice is able to care for more people - which makes the addition of an extra nurse and our fund-raising campaign even more vital.

Once you've filled your Jam Jar, simply hand it in at the hospice's fund-raising office in Claughton Street or any of the hospice's 11 shops throughout the borough.

But don't stop there, you can simply start over collecting all over again.

Just as importantly, we want you to get in touch and tell us how your fund-rasing efforts are going.

Getting involved couldn't be simpler - and signing up will make a lasting impact on our town's wonderful hospice.

So, what are you waiting for ... sign up today!

Apprentices in line for major awards

THREE of St Helens' most hard-working apprentices have been shortlisted for the prestigious Liverpool City Region Apprenticeship Awards (pictured).

The trio competing to be named St Helens Apprentice of the Year are St Helens College student Rachel Boon of TLC Hair & Beauty and Waterside training students Jack Bennett and Lee Dawber of Pilkington.

The winner is set to be announced on June 20. Debbie Tagoe, chair of sponsors Greater Merseyside Learning Providers Federation (GMLPF), said: "The awards are a very important event for our region as they bring the local community together and allow us to celebrate the hardworking, high achieving individuals in our area.

"The awards, which are driven by local providers and employers, also recognise the dedicated employers who train our region's talented apprentices."

Facilities management company and social enterprise Vivark is also sponsoring the 2014 awards and, along with GMPLF, continues to help establish the Liverpool City Region Apprenticeship Awards as a key date in the region's commercial calendar.

Tony Cahill, of Vivark, said: "We firmly believe apprentices are a real asset to any business. Apprentices add value to communities by giving young people, who may not otherwise have had the opportunity, a route to start work.

"By creating these opportunities for young people, we can help boost their aspirations and give them the confidence to strive forward with their career.

"I began my career as an apprentice and it was the best possible foundation I could have hoped for."

'I LOVE PLAYING THE VILLAIN'

Once from Windle, Michael was up for Best Newcomer

DRAMA

By Chris Amery
chris.amery@jpress.co.uk
@ChrisAmery20

Soap star Michael Parr didn't imagine he'd ever enjoy a pint in the Woolpack when he was starring in school plays in St Helens.

But the former St Teresa's and De La Salle pupil, from Windle, has not only landed a part in Emmerdale - he was even nominated for a national British Soap Award.

The 27-year-old, who narrowly missed out on the best newcomer gong, has played the role of villain Ross Barton in the popular ITV soap since bursting onto our screens as a carjacker last summer.

He said: "It was very flattering to be nominated. I was initially also in the running for villain of the year and sexiest male - which is quite embarrassing - but I was delighted to be nominated for best newcomer. The award is voted for by an expert panel so it's highly regarded.

"The other guys I was up against are all very good. I've tuned in to watch their work when I can since I found out who I was up against. To win a soap award one day would be incredible."

A former member of the Elizabeth Hill drama school, Michael went on to study at the East 15 acting school in Essex - graduating in 2008.

He then worked in London for a time as a teacher for children with special needs while making cameo appearances in the likes of Hollyoaks, Casualty and the daytime BBC soap Doctors.

But it is on Emmerdale - where he says the Saints vs Leeds rivalry is as fierce as ever - where he has really made his name.

"Being on Emmerdale has completely changed my life," he said.

"I work from 7am to 7pm most days but the long hours are well worth it. I love what I do.

"When you play a bad lad there's always the potential for your character to get his comeuppance at some point. But I enjoy playing a villain - it enables me to be cheekier and push my luck further than I would in real life."

He added: "I'm still getting used to whole fame side of things. Getting recognised is always a bit of a shock. Sometimes people just walk up to you and shout "Ross" - which isn't really what you need when you've had a few drinks the night before!

"Acting is something that has always come quite naturally to me. But it's a tough industry to get into and an even tougher one to make a living out of. You never know where your next job is going to come from.

"I'd love to go into the writing and directing side in the future."

Boom Banger rally Stuart Hickey and Graham Thompson.

European duo on tour

Two pals drove a staggering 3,000 miles across Europe in a banger they'd bought for just £150.

Amateur mechanics Stuart Hickey, 41, and Graham Thompson, 46, set off from their native Haydock in a clapped-out Vauxhall Astra to take part in the Boom Banger rally in France in aid of Willowbrook Hospice.

But they even had a task making it to the start line in Reims, France!

Stuart said: "We had a sticky back brake at one point and one of the tyres went out of shape too but, thankfully, nothing too major went wrong.

"On the first day we drove to Millau, the second to Barcelona, the third to Alicante, the fourth to Gibraltar and the fifth to Marrakech in Morocco.

"Then, on day six, we returned to Malaga before flying home the day after once we'd finally scrapped the car!"

To prove that they had covered every inch of the demanding course - which even included a mountain pass in the Pyrenees - Stuart and Graham, who decided to don fancy dress for the race start - had to complete daily challenges such as collecting items, swimming in a mountain lake and taking photos of landmarks.

Sixteen other teams took part in the wacky Top Gear-style race - including a teenager who had only just passed his driving test.

Stuart added: "Neither of us had ever done anything like this before - but it was great fun.

"The hardest part was having to take everything we needed with us and having to set off in the mornings without any breakfast.

"The car wasn't the best but we managed to drive 3,000 miles in a week so it can't have been that bad - it served its purpose!

"Thanks to all our sponsors we're hoping to have raised about £800 for Willowbrook."

FIRST DRIVE: VOLKSWAGEN POLO

POLO'S NEW FRESH LOOK

WHAT'S new?: If you look closely you might be able to spot the Polo's new lights.

Don't worry if you can't though, as there's more to the car than meets the eye.

This refreshed Polo's strengths lie mainly under its skin, as Volkswagen boffins have spent most of their time tweaking engine performance and adding improved infotainment and safety kit.

If that news doesn't have you shaking with excitement, the Polo's cabin has also received a makeover. Now closer in looks and feel to the bigger Golf, the appearance of plush materials and a large touchscreen allowing access to the car's infotainment system do much to cement the compact VW's reputation as the most upmarket of all the available superminis.

Looks and image: Yes the Polo might have some new lights but there's more than a hint of 'if it ain't broke, don't fix it' around VW's premium small car. And with good reason; the Polo's polished exterior and fuss-free sheet metal has been retained, while the cabin remains an example to many at this price point of what can be achieved if you really try.

Hard, scratchy plastics are not to be seen, and while the overall ambience is a dark, sombre one, the end result is a cabin that's easily a match for ones belonging to far bigger and more expensive cars. Space and practicality: There might be more spacious and versatile cars in the supermini marketplace but most of them have strayed into the territory marked 'mini people carrier'. For buyers seeking a conventional three or five-door supermini with room in the back for adults, the Polo easily fits the bill.

And with ample cabin oddment storage space, rear seats that fold with no fuss and a generous boot, this mini-me Golf could almost double as a first family car.

Behind the wheel: Although past GTI variants have added a welcome extra dash of spice to the range, you don't buy a Polo to go tearing up the high street in.

What the car does best is cosset and comfort you on the way to the shops. And as always, this refreshed Polo does exactly that. Slick controls with ample assistance make sure of it, while ride comfort is more than good enough in the face of poorly surfaced urban roads.

What justifies the 'new' tag here is a handful of new engines to keep the Polo competitive in the big low CO_2 and fuel consumption game. Three-cylinder petrol engines kick off the range in 1.0-litre guise, with 1.2 and 1.4 turbo motors rounding off the line-up.

Saints answer criticism with impressive giant-slaying win

SAINTS	41
HUDDERSFIELD GIANTS	22

By John Yates
sthelens.sportsdesk@lep.co.uk
@StHelensRep

Saints more than answered the stinging criticism they suffered - both internally and externally - after their far from magic performance against Warrington Wolves at the Etihad Stadium five days earlier.

On-song Huddersfield, who came to Langtree Park on Friday night brimming with confidence after a five-match winning streak, were put to the sword in emphatic fashion - victims of a highly polished all-round team display from a Saints side boasting six different try scorers on the night.

Victory, which helped Nathan Brown's boys reclaim second spot in Super League, was also achieved in the absence of a host of players, including Jonny Lomax, Alex Walmsley, Kyle Amor, Josh Jones, Mark Percival, Adam Swift, Willie Manu and Anthony Laffranchi.

It opened the door further for youngsters, like Joe Greenwood, Anthony Walker, Greg Richards and Luke Thompson, to show their mettle alongside more established and experienced teammates.

Hooker James Roby led from the front, often enjoying the freedom of the park on the back of excellent work from the pack, especially the 'Smiling Assassin' Mose Masoe.

It wasn't a laughing matter for the Giants' defence though as they crumbled under the sheer power of the Samoan's surging runs.

Brown predicted earlier in the year that, when Masoe returned from injury, it would take him some time to reach his full potential - and Huddersfield will be the first to acknowledge he's not far away!

Mr Reliable Paul Wellens also stepped up to the plate, slotting back into the full-back role in place of the injured Jonny Lomax and showing that he had lost none of the know-now in a position he had called his own for so many years.

While it would seem harsh to level any kind of criticism after such an exhilerating performance, in which all 17 played their part, the Aussie boss will no doubt have noted that on four occasions Saints lost focus and conceded within minutes of scoring.

But they were certainly fully focused in the opening exchanges - and it appeared as though they had been fed on raw meat during training, judging by their insatiable hunger for success.

Huddersfield were almost devoured in the opening 15 minutes as sizzling Saints stormed into an 18-0 lead.

Centre Gary Wheeler, back in the fold following a spell on the sidelines, grabbed the first try in the sixth minute after twice being involved in a move which cut the Giants' defence in half.

Scrum-half Luke Walsh goaled and, after Roby's great break led to the supporting Lance Hohaia racing in unchallenged three minutes later, the Aussie slotted over his second two-pointer.

Try number three quickly followed as Walsh sold a dummy close to the Giants' line before sending Wellens over for his third try of the campaign before adding the extras.

Huddersfield had hardly threatened but in their first positive attack after 18 minutes reduced the deficit to 18-6 - loose forward Lance Patrick darting over and stand-off Danny Brough, who had created the opening, converting.

Undetered, Saints remained on the front foot and extended their lead in the 25th minute, thanks to a major contribution from ex-Huddersfield utility player, Matt Dawson.

Dawson, operating on the left wing, picked up a wayward pass deep inside his own half and although hauled down as the line beckoned, he picked himself up and was then on hand in the second phase of the move to plunge over from Wellens' clever off-load.

Walsh failed for the first time with his kick but more than made amends early in the second half by delivering a telling crossfield kick which second rower Jon Wilkin read to perfection - arrowing in ahead of three defenders - and leaving his Aussie team-mate a simple fourth goal.

Huddersfield's response was to go downfield and score almost immediately.

Saints failed to deal with Brough's towering kick from the restart and as the ball bounced awkwardly, centre Leroy Cudjoe sent winger Ben Blackmore in.

But it failed to dent the hosts' confidence and when Masoe blasted his way over from Roby's off-load after 54 minutes, it was a fitting reward for the big man who had softened up the Tykes' defence with several blockbusting runs in the build up.

Walsh's fifth goal increased Saints' lead to 34-10, and while second rower Brett Ferres kept Huddersfield's points tally ticking over by scoring from a Brough grubber kick, which the latter converted, their chances of rescuing anything from the game were remote to say the least.

Those hopes more or less ended 13 minutes from time when Wheeler hacked on before claiming his second try and Walsh landed his sixth goal.

The Aussie completed Saints' scoring with a 78th minute drop goal but notbefore Blackmore had cashed-in on a handling error to crash over down the right and Brough took his goal tally to three from four attempts.

Boxer hopes win will earn him a title shot

Top boxer Martin Murray hopes a convincing victory in his next fight will earn him a third world title shot in November.

The pride of St Helens middleweight is set to go toe-to-toe with Max Bursak in Monte Carlo next month.

Should he beat Bursak, Murray, 31, will hope to fight the winner of champion Sergio Martinez's fight with Miguel Cotto in New York on June 7.

Murray suffered a controversial points defeat in a world title bout against Martinez in Argentina last April.

He previously drew with then-champion Felix Sturm in his first world title shot in November 2012.

Murray will take on Ukrainian Bursak on June 21 in the second fight of his seven-figure deal with South African promoter Golden Gloves.

He stopped Ishmael Tetteh in April in his first fight since a lacklustre display in London last December.

"Bursak is a tough lad, but I know I'm going to win," said Murray. "I can't afford to slip up now. I'll treat all my fights like title fights. There will be no under-estimating from me, not when I'm in my prime."

His promoter Rodney Berman admitted his charge needs to fight more regularly.

"Martin obviously needs some rounds to wear off the ring rust and that is why we are bringing him back on June 21," he said.

Murray's clash with Bursak will top a show which also features Ilunga Makabu fighting for the WBA interim cruiserweight title against Mateusz Masternak.

Bursak is coming off a defeat to Jarrod Fletcher in February after he stepped in to replace Murray against the Australian.

The 29-year-old previously challenged Hassan N'Dam N'Jikam for the interim WBO world title but lost convincingly on points.

Crusaders secure a victory

Crusaders recovered their form on Thursday when they took on Wild Cats at Windleshaw Road.

Batting first and playing a man short, the Cats, managed one and a half rounders from 27 balls, including seven no-balls, two of which had produced a penalty half rounder to Lorraine Gabbitas who also scored a half and Alison Platt scored the other.

In reply, the visitors faced 54 balls, including seven no-balls and posted a score of four and a half with the only full rounder coming from Jen Graham who also scored two halves and was awarded a penalty half for two consecutive no-balls.

The other four halves came from Lynsey McHugh, Tasha Lee, Chloe Plunkett and Sue Smith.

In their second innings, the Cats fared slightly better with halves from Lauren O'Hara, Di Arnold, Alison, Lorraine and Natalie Cotham (2) from 22 balls with no no-balls.

But Crusaders needed just one ball for Lorna Brookes to score the winning half.

Don't forget you can give rounders a go at Ruskin Drive on Sunday afternoons at 2pm (weather permitting).

Just wear suitable footwear and clothing. Men, women, boys and girls are all welcome but children under 10 must be accompanied by an adult.

Saints climb to the top of table

Thatto Heath St Helens Girls 32 Wigan St Judes Girls 22

Saints girls went into the match optimistic and confident, despite the miserable weather!

The game began with some tough tackles and strong defence from St Jude's until Emily Hill broke the line of the defence leading to Jade Ward scoring the first try of the match.

A further two tries in quick succession were scored by Pip Birchall and Jade Ward, before St Judes reciprocated with their first try on the stroke of half time.

The second half was opened by a try from St Judes before Danielle Hughes, for Saints Girls, stepped over in the corner to score a try.

Both teams exchanged further tries, Saints Girls' coming from Danni Platt but it was the final run along the wing from Rebecca Rotheram that sealed the win.

Saints Girls are now top of the table and within reach of a Champion of Champions tournament.

Book that will move you to tears

Anyone, like myself, who has read the autobiography of former Liverpool and Everton defender Gary Ablett and his determined but unsuccessful battle to cure a form of blood cancer, will know the kind of moving story which is about to unfold about the life of ex-Saints, Hull FC and Wakefield full-back Steve Prescott.

His widow, Linzi, has just penned the final chapter and I'm told that the chosen few already privileged to see the contents have been moved to tears.

The book is entitled One In A Million and written by Steve during the last few years of a life tragically ended last year at the age of 39 due to pseudomyxoma peritonei - a rare form of stomach cancer.

But not before he had time to put most of his thoughts into writing helped by my journalist colleague, Mike Critchley, who revealed this week that the book is set to be published this summer.

It's about an ordinary boy whose rugby league dreams came true and then his amazing courage as he faced the daunting prospect of battling against the dreaded disease.

Even then he found time to launch the Steve Prescott Foundation and also help raise thousands of pounds for the Christie Hospital and Try Assist, the RL benevolent fund which caters for the needs of suffering ex-players.

Sadly, he passed away just as he awaited the pioneering 'world first' multi organ transplant in Churchill Hospital, Oxford, last autumn which he hoped would save his life.

He survived the operation but died from complications which can follow a transplant.

I don't need to tell any one that this is not just another story about a sportsman but a courageous and likeable St Helens-born young man - whose bravery touched the hearts of everyone who knew him - as well as others who only learned about his exploits through the media and word of mouth.

An autobiography to adorn the book case in thousands of homes.

But despite Steve's passing his charity work goes on and only last week the efforts of eight intrepid walkers, who raised more than £30,000 after walking from from Land's End to John O' Groats over 11 days, were marked by a civic reception at St Helens Town Hall hosted by the Mayor Andy Bowden.

Among the delegation were former Saints skipper Paul Sculthorpe, ex-team-mate Tommy Martyn and St Helens-born Warrington Wolves ace Lee Briers who started his career at Knowsley Road.

Saints may have taken a great deal of criticism after the way they capitulated against Warrington during the Magic Weekend but it didn't stop the fans flocking through the turnstiles at Langtree Park for the visit of Huddersfield Giants - the 2013 League Leaders' Shield winners - on Friday night.

Fans could have just stayed at home and watched the match on TV and, with the Giants hardly the best supported club on their travels, a second Super League gate below 10,000 this season seemed a pre-match possibility.

But rather than vent their feelings by snubbing the match, 10,128 hardy souls turned up and were rewarded by a five-star Saints performance.

I hope they'll all be back for this Friday's showdown against the Salford Red Devils.

Nathan Brown's Saints are looking down on 12 of the 14 clubs which embrace the First Utility Super League at the mid-point of the season and, had he been offered this lofty perch back in early February, he would have snatched off your hand.

But the Saints head coach is setting his sights on maintaining, if not bettering, the club's current second-in-the-table spot and position of strength to go on and claim their first Grand Final crown since 2006.

A place in the play-offs is already all-but nailed down unless there is a catastrophic dip in form but Saints will be looking no further than Friday's home game against Salford and their next two points to build on last week's confidence-boosting 41-22 victory over the Huddersfield Giants.

Brown said: "It is essential that we keep working hard because we are not the finished article yet and need to deliver a top physical performance against Salford, just as we did when facing the Giants.

"We are definitely developing as a team but at the end of the day we don't want to finish third or fourth.

"We are fully aware there are parts of our game which needs improving against the bigger clubs and I felt our display on Friday was our best against good opposition for a while."

The Aussie was delighted by the effort and commitment his injury-hit squad produced to overcome the challenge of last year's League Leaders' Shield winners and in particular the contributions from skipper Paul Wellens and man-mountain Mose Masoe.

Brown said: "Paul is a great competitor and I don't think anyone can doubt what he brings to the team. When he is on the field we seem to have something going for us.

"His leadership is also first-class and that is why it is vital we have him around - someone who can set a good standard and example to the young blokes around him."

Of the Samoan powerhouse, he declared: "Mose arrived with a lower limb injury and took some time to get going but against Huddersfield he probably showed why we brought him to the club."

Brown was also pleased to see two-try Gary Wheeler back in the line-up after a stop-start season and hopes he is finally set to shed his unwanted injury-jinx tag

"The big challenge now facing him is to make sure he comes up with the goods again," Brown said.

Nathan Brown

Return for Jones after suffering a concussion

Saints centre Josh Jones is expected to return to the side after suffering mild concussion in the defeat against Warrington at the Magic Weekend.

Nathan Brown will also be hoping to welcome back young centre Mark Percival, full-back Jonny Lomax and giant prop Alex Walmsley for this Friday's clash with Salford.

Long-term absentees Anthony Laffranchi, Kyle Amor and Richard Beaumont remain sidelined.

Young stars Anthony Walker, Joe Greenwood, Greg Richards and Luke Thompson will all be hoping to keep their places following the impressive 41-22 victory over Huddersfield Giants.

Gary Wheeler will also be eager to cling onto his place in the side and man-mountain prop Mose Masoe will be eager to pick up where he left off last week.
